"I'm Ted Irwin and I'd like you to know that after more than 150 boats, I have redesigned the IRWIN 37 to offer you more room, live aboard comfort, and convenience than any other boat in its class...including many larger boats.

"The spacious main salon and galley areas are new and give the feeling of being in much larger boats. The unique step-down galley is separated from the rest of the main salon yet close enough to the main cabin and cockpit for conversation.

"Then as you walk aft through the below deck passageway you'll see a welcomed change...a large, comfortable double berth in the owner's stateroom. Contrary to some opinions couples do like to sleep together if for no more reason than to heighten their sense of security!

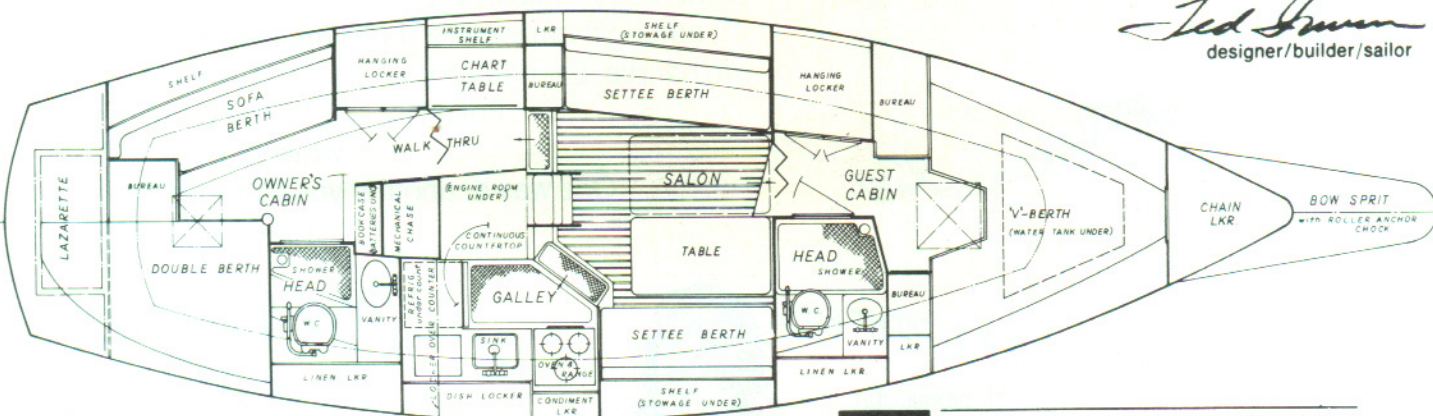

"Along with the elaborate changes below deck, I've made the IRWIN 37 MARK III standard with sails, winches, roller reefing mainsail and a working bow sprit for easier sail handling. Just about everything you need while sailing is at arm's reach in the center cockpit—pedestal steerer, engine controls, mainsheet winch and the sheet for the self-tending jib. This convenient location of controls allows you to stay in the security of the cockpit especially in rough weather.

"And, if the wind ever stops, it's nice to know you have a cruising range of over 750 miles for only 100 gallons of diesel fuel.

"So before you make a decision on another boat that you may have for years, do yourself a favor. Write to me for complete details on the new IRWIN 37 MARK III. You'll be glad you did."
